The Academy Herald

DEDICATION

We the class of 1971 dedicate this eighty-fifth edition of the Academy Herald to the retiring Wilbur R. Myers. He has been immeasurably valuable to Gould in the literally countless tasks that he has undertaken (usually in a pinch-hitting-volunteer capacity) over his 40 years with us.

Mr. Myers, we all wish you much happiness in the future.

GEHRING HALL

Take one simple night at Gehring Hall with about 60 girls and see how unsimple things can be. It is about 10:30, time for lights out, but there seems to be a strange, heavenly (?) glow emitting from the windows of Gehring. To start things off with some action, as all things begin at Gehring, leave it to Richie. She's staggering down the hall debating on whether she should pull the fire alarm or spray the extinguisher. Sharon is telling her that it is a lot easier to go to bed. Renetta is quietly reminding everyone that it is lights-out. Miss Swift and Follie have just made their rounds in patrolling the halls for unusual scents. In the meantime, Arlyne and Sharon are gathering together gallons of food from somewhere. Celeste is downstairs preparing another one of her gourmet snacks with Nancy Brett puffing on her Benson and Hedges. Michelle and Holly are awaiting their next visitors. Judy Jenness is running around from hall to hall, corner to corner with her book and CUP. Sue Gregg is in deep thought. Could it be love? Audrey is running around in search of her lost furniture. There seems to be a line backed up to the wall from the alley bathroom. Shorty insists in putting up another one of her "clean the bathroom" signs. April is nervously awaiting Micki's return. We have reason to believe that she has taken another one of those weekends. Margo and Andrea are desperately trying to get it all together. Grange is presently in Isabel's room discussing vacation plans. Josie is practicing sprints in the hall while the Haslun doubles are cheering her on and also getting in a little practice for themselves. Aimee is occupying herself with a new French book in the corner of her room. Robin Clark is impatiently awaiting her evening window call. Noise can be heard from the other end of the hall. Stone and Smitty are still bickering about the softball game. McGreevy and Barbara Stetson are recovering from their over-the-bank activities and planning tomorrow's so they'll have something to talk about at lunch. Reville and Betsy's light is still on but so is Wallingford and Jean's. They must have gotten into something heavy! Kim is in Gail's room grooving out to the latest 45's. Sarah, Missy and Gela are busy organizing a second "explosive" evening. For you see, the night has yet to begin. But the plans are interrupted as Linda Bunker charges in with news of her recent date with a Green Beret. Going down the hall, we find that Kathy Evans has succeeded again in barricading her roommate, Meg Baird, in the closet. We passed Rosa in the hall and she seems rather depressed. Apparently "Dark Shadows" has been taken off the air. Amy Ruben is conversing with townspeople through her window. It can be heard throughout the corridors. We see Francie making many trips to the bathroom with a plastic cap on her head. Looks like she is straightening her hair again. Wendell is prancing down the hall. Her hello can be heard within a radius of a half a mile. Meg is still trying to keep up with the happenings while Stephie just watches them go by. Pat and Barb are finally returning the Haslun's fan. Sikes feels a strange exciting thing about to be. Gidley is busy spray painting the furniture psychodelic colors. Meg R. and Pacem are all set for the evening. With cokes in hand, they lie back to watch the Johnny Carson show. No sound can be heard from Monk's room or Church's either except an occasional "Shut up" or "Turn that thing down." Big Vic and Little Low, all played out, are consulting the Ouija Board. Janis and Sandy are still competing as to who is the more beautiful; each insisting the other is. Lynn is preparing her next escape to the T-Byrd after awaiting the changing of the guards. Eve is trying to tell people to be quiet but is having trouble in making herself heard. So begins another simple night at Gehring Hall.

HOLDEN HALL

Well, what do you think, Robinson? How about moving those bindings back a quarter of an inch? Shh! Who's that at the door? Oh, it's Mr. Weir looking for the Grimes brothers. Haven't seen them anywhere, probably over the bank with Stunzi. Huh? Rochester is doing breathing exercises and hasn't seen them either? What's that, Mr. Weir, you're looking for a babysitter for Peter Meyer? How about Byron—no I guess he's playing basketball with Charlie in the fireplace. Sirjane could do it but he's helping Animal with something in the incinerator room. Stew Epstein and Peter Nolden haven't been able to get Dick Jackman away from Stew's Venus Fly Trap yet. Who's that at the door? Steve—you've been looking for your telephone credit card for a year now? Ask Jenness, he's up in his room feeling knowledgeable. Now, Mr. Weir, you still need somebody to babysit for Peter? How about Alec—nope, he's in the rack; has to be up by four a.m. Maybe Fritz, except he's on his room-to-garbage can run. Stetson isn't around; he and Carroll are in their closet workshop working on an amp. Edgar is busy telling somebody. Spadone could do it but he's been trapped in the kiln for three days now. Where's Bart—researching an Economics paper with Hayden. What's that? Hayden doesn't have late lights? Greg Gorbach was playing proctor. He must have given them to him. Butler and Powell haven't gotten back from fishing yet and Emil is asleep, patiently awaiting them. Jay Sbrega just tied himself into a square knot. Cummings would be trying to get him apart except that he can't get through the vault door to his room. Bill Hawk is polishing his sneakers. Nick Allen and Eagle are cheering him on. What's that noise outside? Hmm! It's just Francine at somebody's window. Judge Tucker'd be a good babysitter except he can't get out of his hip boots. J. B. and Mark Kaelber are down at the Spa; and who knows where Fletcher is? Probably making candles in his room. Mmm . . . Chris Pratt is working on his third level cub scout merit badge and Shaw just finished sharpening his ninth pair of skis. What about Mr. McGuire? He's out in the hall talking politics to Ed. What's that, Ed isn't there? I know it's eleven thirty but Matt Stevens is practicing hockey upstairs with Terrio and McDevitt and of course they are keeping Steve Winter awake. You know he still goes to bed at 7:30. Chris Ellis could sit but he's in Stunzi's room listening to Humble Pie. Blake is out running track. Sammy Chapin is out playing stretch with Peter Templeton. Ken Wright and Charlie Ault are waging war on the room next door. Mr. Saltus is minding the upstairs corridor with a copy of Dr. Spock in his hand. Cris Gray is pretending to play the electric guitar with Jaret keeping time. Merritt and Ross just crept down to the butt room with Dave Hinman's spirit. Gees, Mr. Weir, I don't know what you're going to do about Meyer. How about giving him late lights? You're going to do it yourself? Good Luck! Now, Dave, what about those bindings?

The Elms Story

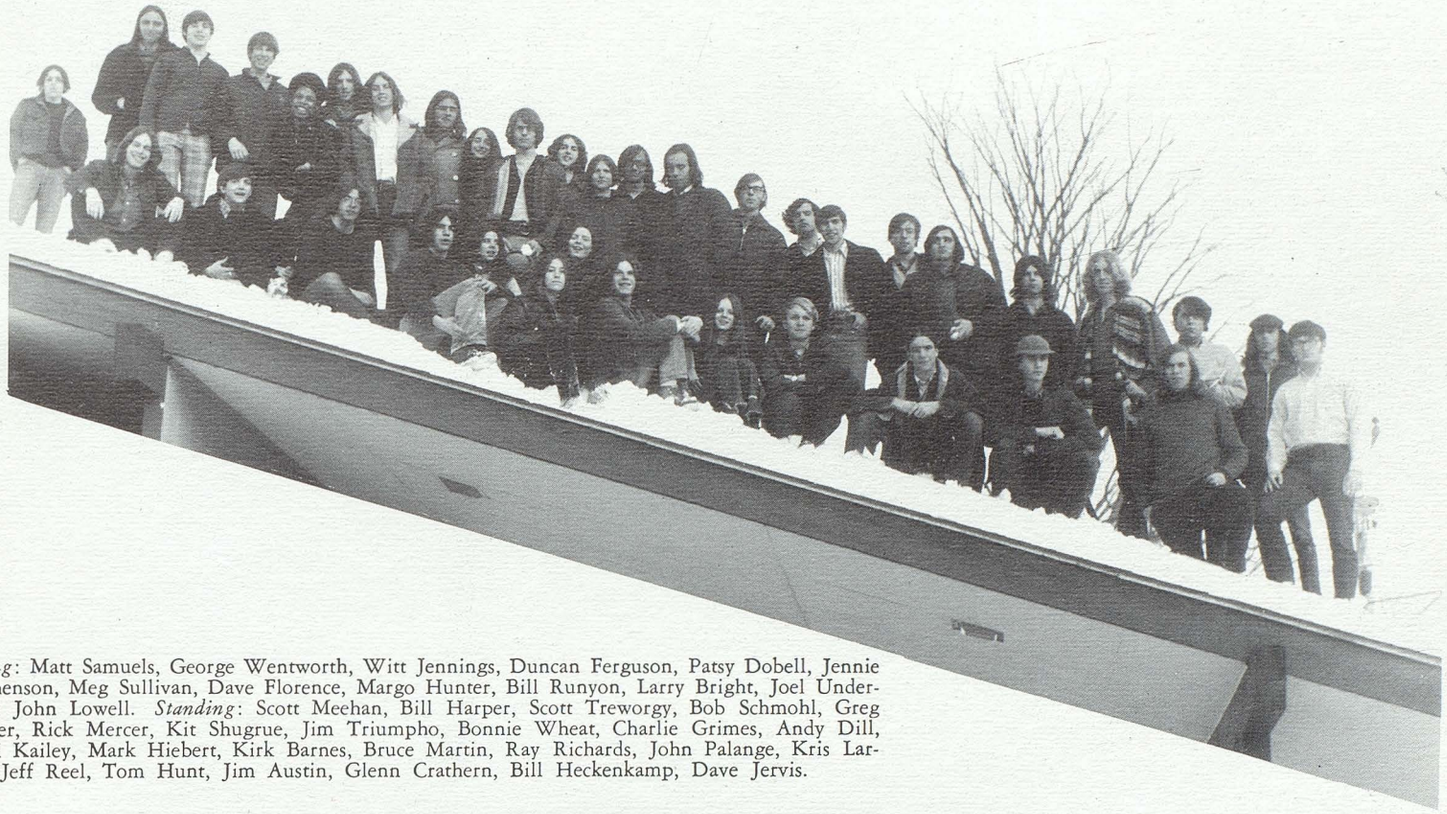

The Elms is a quaint New England home, where all life centers around the fireplace. The chimneys are billowing forth smoke although there are no logs to be found.

We walked in the front door and found Hildy playing solitaire. Mary Howell sat at her feet doing likewise. At the foot of the stairs is Room 61. Chummy and Beth have left all their windows wide open again! Up the stairs and bearing left we entered Nip and Tuck's room, alias Den of Iniquity. Everyone was there but the occupants themselves; B. H. was in a corner studying, J. S. was asleep on one bed, J. T. on the floor. Going through the adjoining doors to Wheat's room, we heard strange sounds emitting from the closet. Wonder who's in there now? Holly and Patsy were in the bathroom contemplating their escape from Bethel. Where's Bonnie? We figured the clashing wallpaper and rug had finally gotten to her. She's probably over the bank with M. H. and C. G. Heading down the hall and down one step, we entered Meg's room. The place was lit up with sparklers and Roman candles. Pink ice cream was flowing out of the toilet and into her room. E. B. was in a chair quietly drinking some wine. Meg, in the middle of it all, was in hysterics. Down the hall a bit was Jennifer Pitcher's room. The place looked as if she had moved in in five minutes. Next door Nancy Allen was entertaining a friend. Yea, I did see a VW bus outside! Several people passed us in the hall as we walked down further. The back stairs are really getting their fair share of use. There wasn't too much noise from Betsy and Robin's room but we knew better! The door opened and out came a parade! K, B., C. G., W. J., etc. How did they all fit? We shook our heads sadly and agreed the place hadn't changed a bit. We went back to our room and sat down in front of the fireplace. Fishnet dangled nicely around our heads. A pounding down the hall meant Miss Sabin was leaving for the evening. Ah, a knock on the door! Hi J. L., B. H., D. F., LITTLE G.! Tuck's across the hall!

Well, all the visitors are safely tucked away for the night. Even Spike! Sweet dreams. Wenke, will you ever shut up! Good night, Gibbs! Goodnight Jennifer.

While the Byrd looks pretty quiet and peaceful on the exterior, inside we find the usual 11 p.m. action. Larry Bright has just ruined Matt's flute, attempting to blow glass through it. Matt hasn't found out yet seeing as he has dozed off in the bathroom. Next door, Greg, on the verge of passing out, claims he is "just resting" and Jack is enjoying Angela's company. Harper is in his room calmly trying to talk Nick out of turning him in for smoking while Jennifer is stashed under a pile of clothes in the closet. Austin is out scouring the dorm for anything he can find for free. Jervis is just leaving his room asking himself "should I?", knowing that just about everyone else already has. Baxter, his roommate, appears to be entering his second childhood. Rumor has it that Palange and Treworgy do actually live in the T-Byrd; we have yet to see them. As Joel is busy fingerpainting on his wall, Crathern and Richards next door appear to be in their normal state of hibernation. Scooter is mixing up another batch of Root Beer in the bathtub. Florence can't seem to find his own room. Barnes is, as usual, imposing on someone while Kit just is . . . Upstairs, Mercer is trying to talk Schmohl into another bottle. Georgeous George is off on another weekend. Madame is hassling someone new (d) as usual. Despite the padlock on Will, Flash, and Jeff's door, an occasional cough and giggle is heard from within. Hunt and Martin are having a grooviness contest. Big Tom seems to undoubtedly be in the lead, seeing as how his Hair has started to get good in the back. Larson is in his bathroom looking for bugs in the tub. Duncan and Witt, aside from inventing "pop" and fried owls are trying desperately to get it together, with Dill and Hiebert just as busy tearing it apart. Atwood and Runyon are casually retiring with a little nightcap. Ex-residents McGregor, Grimes and Triumpho are crashed out somewhere in the dorm, in hot pursuit by our loveable hippy dorm master Nick "Tracy" Litchfield who is busily planning his next bust, not hearing, somehow, all the commotion from the fire upstairs.

The Gould Academy eleven, after several lean years, came into its own again in the fall of 1970. From the very beginning, when the squad came back a few days before school opened, there was drive and push and a willingness to work. Moreover, as Head Coach Feeney remarked more than once, the boys were coachable, and they were hungry.

Opening against Dixfield High School, Gould displayed the usual initial weaknesses, but a determined defense drove Dirigo into their own end zone for a touchback, giving us a 2 - 0 victory. During the next two games against Oxford Hills JV's and Boys' Training Center, our offense, both aerial and on the ground, began to take shape, and we won handily in both games.

In many respects, our best game was on Parents' Day, on our home field, against Kent's Hill. The enemy scored on a blocked kick early in the first quarter, but Gould, showing tremendous hit and hustle, bottled up the Kent's Hill offense, and turned on the steam. When the smoke cleared, a fine Husky eleven claimed the victory by a score of 20 - 6.

Our sole defeat came at Maine Central Institute, where a fired-up, Parents' Day, home team overcame us 22 - 12. Despite the final score, the game was a close one in which one of our touchdowns was called back and in which we led up to the second half.

We ended our season by defeating, in a hard-fought game, Boys' Training Center with a score of 38 - 30.

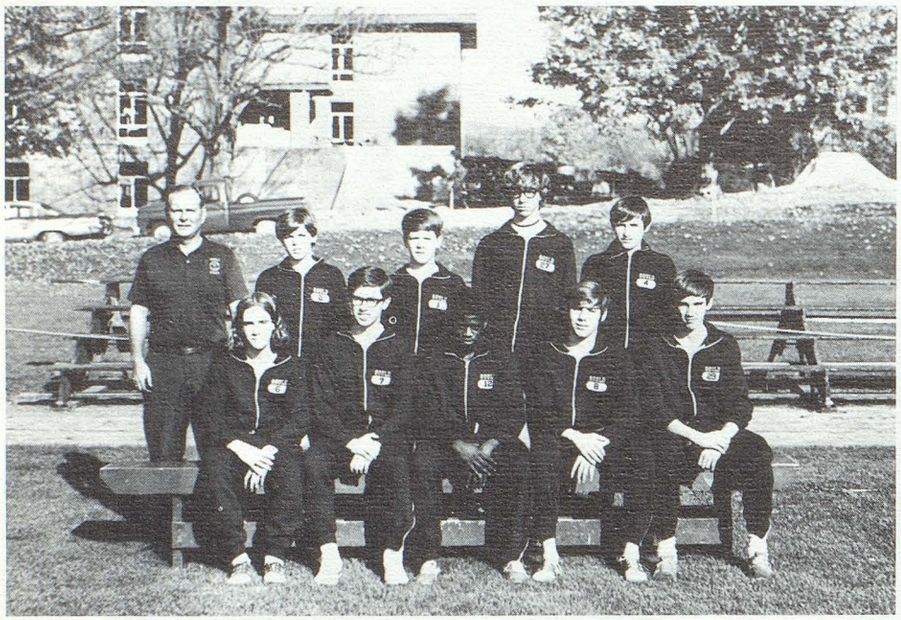

Space prevents comment on individuals, but we cannot omit mention of the great work of co-captains Dan Vogt and Jeff Reel, and the outstanding backfield running of Mark Hiebert. Vogt accounted for 57 points and Hiebert for 50 points out of a season's total of 121 against 86 for our opponents. Defensively, the play was of fine quality, with good savage blocking and tackling the order of the day.

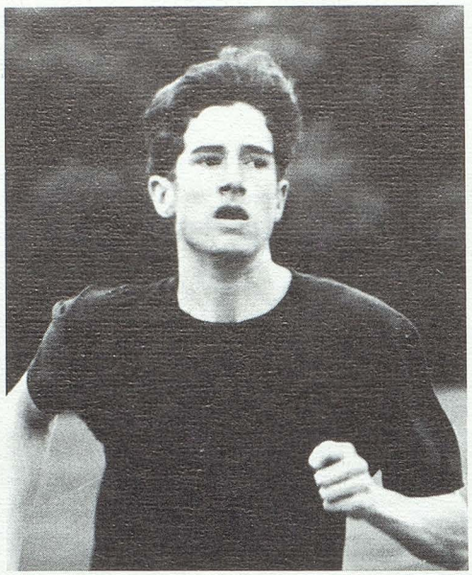

Gould Academy and the team cannot sufficiently thank Head Coach Feeney, Coach Cousins, Coach Hurd, and Trainer Roderick for their fine coaching, their concern for an interest in every member of the squad, and their complete dedication of themselves to the task at hand. Well Done, Warriors ! ! ! Until next fall.

This year's cross-country team endured many long afternoons of grueling "440's" to post a fine record of six wins, one loss in regular competition, and a third in the Maine Prep Championship Run held at Gould. Our only loss in dual competition was to North Yarmouth Academy, while Lee Academy and NYA led the way in the State Run.

Coach Frank Vogt is pleased to note that only Ed Bailey will be lost through graduation, leaving a potentially powerful pack including ace Charlie Ault, Captain Jack Milligan, Scott Treworgy, Dan Baxter (rookie of the year), Doug Shaw (most improved runner), and Captain-elect Larry Bright. Supported by Rick Chandler and Kevin Jenness, this team suggests strong possibilties of an even more exciting record than the one summarized below.

SOCCER

Contrary to popular belief, the soccer team was in reality a true team. Although many of the members of the team appeared to be a bit freakish looking there was nevertheless talent hidden behind the carefree appearance.

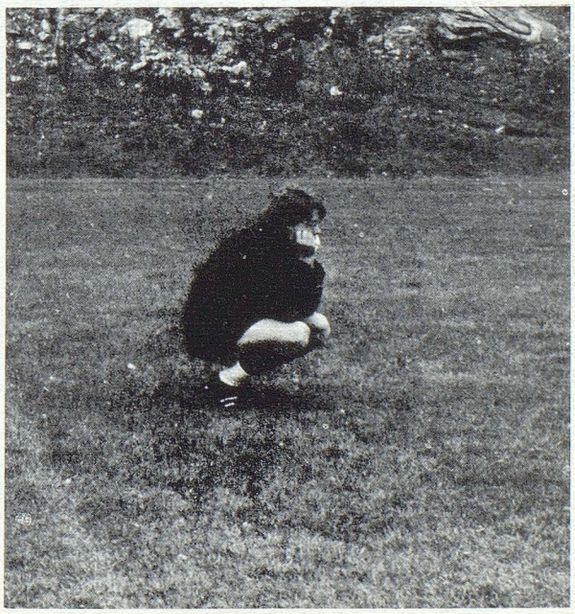

At the beginning of the season the team looked very poor, it is true. But some kind of spirit began to brew and the individuals started to unite into one unit, a soccer team. Opposing teams might laugh at first, but only one team out of six had the honor of defeating our band of gypsies. We were never unhappy about comments made about us because we knew that there was a good solid team behind the happiness and casualness represented by the team.

I was honored to be a member of the team and can truthfully say that every member of the team played an equal part in making a success of the season because we only had thirteen players for an eleven-man game. We were happy freaks. We would like to be remembered as the founding fathers of successful freak soccer.

BASKETBALL

The Gould Academy Huskies had another successful year in varsity basketball. The Huskies had an overall record of 16-6. Quite impressive! With most of the starting line-up back and several fabulous newcomers the Huskies ripped and tore their way into the final games. The Huskies once again met their old rivals, Jonesport-Beals and Hyde, and once again were felled. In many cases the Huskies were underdogs, but that's the way to be—there's nothing to lose! In Class D, we successfully defended our Western Maine title against Wells. We then advanced to the State Championship, only to lose again to Jonesport-Beals. In the Prep School League we held our own. We ended up in second place with a loss to Jon Bell and Co. (Hyde). The main thing was that we proved the Huskies aren't to be denied.

Perhaps the major reason why we got as far as we did was our tireless unerring coach, Charles Hurd. He is probably one of the better coaches in this state. He has put long hours into the formation of the team. He is a thinking coach, constantly setting up new plays, better defense, and line-up combinations. He gives everybody a chance and spends many hours working with a player on his weaker points. If anybody deserves credit, let it be Mr. Hurd.

I will now give my personal description and thoughts on the members of the varsity squad.

Our fitting captain did his job with a great deal of perfection. Bobby Schmohl was very consistent throughout the year. He's one of the better forwards I've seen. He hauled down his share of rebounds shoved the ball down opponents throats and thrilled the spectators with fancy left-handers. Well done, Bobby!

Every time our gargantuan Grizzly Bear would come rambling down the court, like a great tidal wave, many of the opponents fled in terror. Every time "Animal" Fairburn stuck his hands in the air his opponent would have to arc the ball an extra 30°!

Player-Coach Wayne Davis played games with many of his opponents. He'd take his man way outside, and then he'd make the shot! He picked rebounds off the rim and discouraged many opponents from coming down the middle.

At the end of every close game Dan Vogt will put on a dribbling show of the likes never seen. Between his legs, around his legs, over his head, and behind his ears. When Danny's all done, the game's over! If not the show, the winning long bomb.

Black Magic played before the eyes of the crowd in the forms of Gary Graham and Jack Milligan. These two court wizards tantalized the spectators with every move. Gary is our one-on-one specialist; 90% of the time he proves it. Jumping Jack Milligan leapt so high once he kicked an opponent in the face!

Tall-Timber John Altgelt is our speed demon. He often sets the court on fire and sometimes the nets!

Streak Shooter Jervis. Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang! Bang!

"A-Foot-A-Year" Charlie Ewing, Sharpshooter Charlie Ault, Flashy Bill Hawk, Big Bad Bob Eagle, and Long Bomb Greg Frazier captured the crowd's eyes with slick ball play. All were members and will be members of the varsity squad. They and Coach Wayne Davis had an excellent season with a 17-1 record! Keep it up boys!

Don't go away; there's lots more action to come!

WESTERN MAINE CHAMPIONS

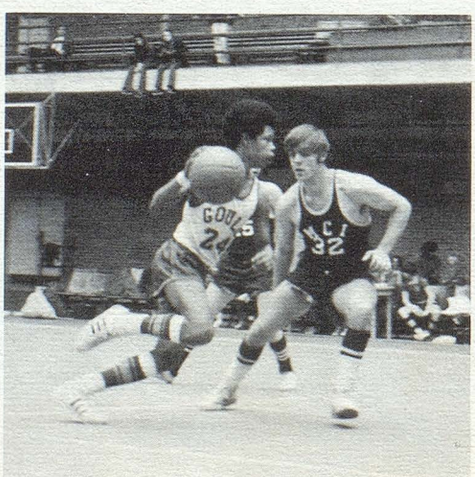

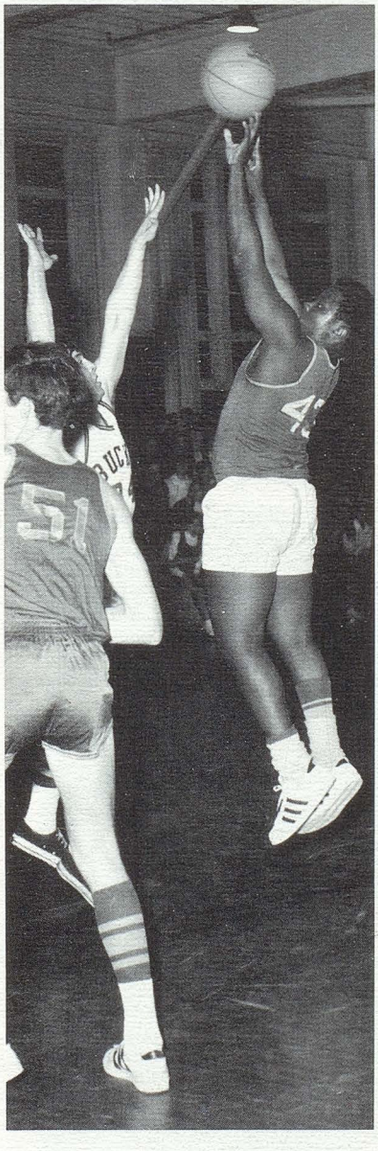

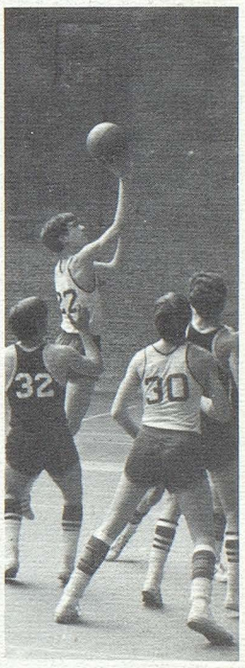

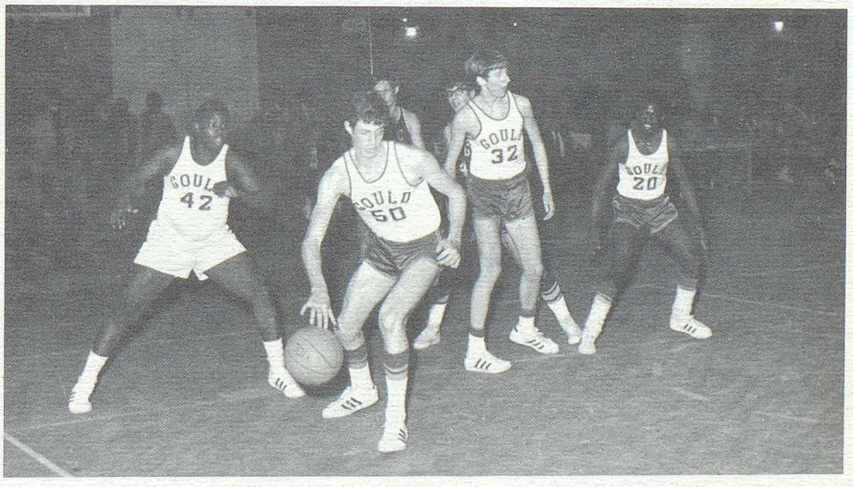

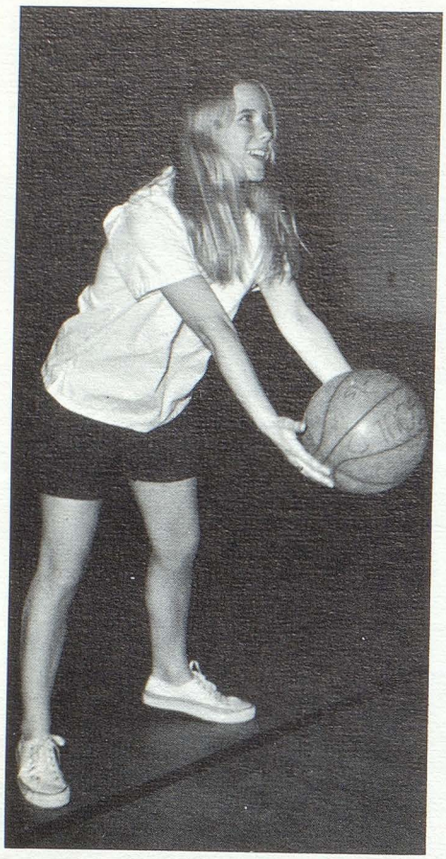

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

"All right, girls, the other team is not very good and I think we can win. I want you all to play in a zone defense; and, Wendy, watch your side for the big girl; Missy, go over and help her; Josie, you come out. Don't forget, girls, use the left side. Renetta is open. Beth, work your outside shot. Carol, Steffy, and Angel, stay warm; we'll need some substitutes."

"O.K., Coach."
"Holly."
"Yea, Shorty."
"Here we are again."
"Yea, we lost another one."

For the first time in at least four years, we've actually won a meet. Excuse us—11 out of 14!! This year's "hired guns" recruited from icebound Norway, the wild French-Canadian woods, the halls of Fryeburg Academy, the rolling hills of Vermont, smog-filled Connecticut, good old Telstar Regional, and the booming metropolis of Bridgton, with the added attraction of an ex-French National Ski Team member, managed to survive the agonies of Mill Hill, mayhem soccer (under the loving guidance of Alvin Alpine and Nikki Nordi), and purple Klister, all in the cause of glory and victory, only to fail to capture what we felt to be a well-deserved state title, due to disqualifications beyond our control. Sigh!

To get down to specifics. Our performance featured Kristin Ski-Meister Wiese, part-time member and veteran hustler of the boys' ski team; Cindi Kailey, the candy-striped cupcake most often seen as a blur of swift-moving skier; yellow-bottomed inhabitant of The Elms, Nancy Allen; the only red-headed frog in existence—Aimee 3rd DesRoches; the original turkey, bubble-bouncer Jose Spalding; notre capitaine, Patrice ze-supair skieur-of-ze-entire-universe Thibodeau (complete with frog in her back pocket); Andrea Long-johns (just a euphemism!) Underwood, mid-year draftee; and last, but not least, the two who saw the light and converted to other-ski, that super-jock, co-babysitter and ex-Russian devotee, Meg Sullivan and J. M. Nicole Nordi Jenness.

Which brings us to our newest specialty—X-C (for all you unenlightened alpinists, that's cross-country). Our 50% winning streak (one out of two meets) leads us to believe that with the help of Chief McGuire's well-known wax wizardry plus a little banana yellow, we might even beat the other two teams in the state.

Actually, without good old Dad Cros, his paregoric, breakfasts, saunas, ice cream cones, superb chauffering, and most of all, love and devotion, we never could have had a team at all. Thanks to his determination, we really got together as a team.

And remember, folks, it's all in the breathing . . . right on, baby!

The 1971 ski season proved to be a moderately successful one for the boys' ski team. We kicked off the season with an international X-C relay race in Morin Heights, P. Q., Canada, on Jan. 2. Bart Bailey led the first team of Alec DesRoches and Jeff Winter to a fifth place. The second team placed seventh. Mr. McGuire shed a tear as we left the beautiful Bellevue Hotel and the scenic ski terrain of the Laurentians.

Back home our first meet was with Mt. Blue. Although we won three of the events, the slalom team fell apart and we ended up two points behind. Bart and Alec were first and third in the X-C and Lowell tied for first in the G. S. but it wasn't enough.

The next weekend Gould hosted its annual relay race and individual jumping. Again Bart led the first team to victory; he took first himself and Baxter took second. Lowell won the jumping in the afternoon.

Next was Kennett H.S. of Conway, N. H. Alpine Atwood took the G. S. with Lowell taking the slalom and Bart both nordic events. With a perfect score in G. S., Gould overpowered Kennett.

Mr. McGuire's favorite of the year was next on the schedule. After a slim lead in the X-C on Friday, the team followed through with perfect scores in the alpine events and a win in the jumping. Baxter won the slalom, Atwood in the G. S., Bailey in the X-C, and Lowell in the jumping. Coach McGuire had a two-foot smile as he handed Rumford the final scores.

In the Maine School Championship, Gould had little problem showing its superiorty. With almost a perfect score in all events, the outstanding performance went to Mark Hiebert for first in slalom and a tie with Lowell for first in the G. S. Bart maintained the tradition with a win in the X-C and also was skimeister. Lowell was first in the jumping.

The first day of the State AA meet took its toll on the X-C team. Bart was our best finisher with sixth and Baxter twelfth. In slalom Bailey was fourth and Atwood eighth; in G. S. Bailey third, Baxter fifth; and in jumping Bailey seventh, Lowell eighth. In a close finish with Mt. Blue, Gould pulled third overall behind E. L. and Rumford. Bart took the skimeister.

Splitting the team to participate in both New England meets, the skiers left for Laconia, N. H., and Hanover, N. H., on the same weekend. In the Preps, we finished second to Holderness. Our best alpine performance came from Mr. Crosbie's squad and proved to be of great assistance. Kristin Wiese placed seventeenth in the slalom and twentieth in the G. S. She was the only girl competing and no one was ashamed. We ended up in sixth place after the alpine events, but the jumping team pulled the meet out with a second place. Lowell was fourth, Bailey seventh, Cole eleventh, and Winter twelfth. In the X-C, Bart was our fastest with an eighth.

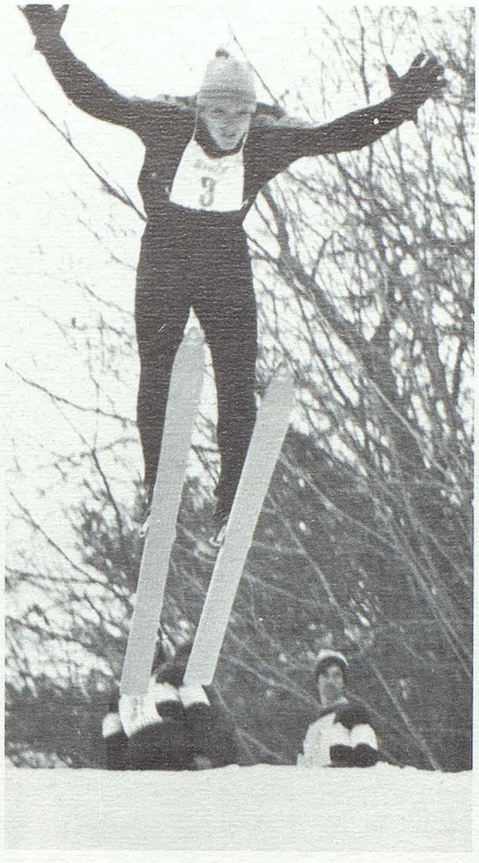

At Laconia, the Margate Inn was a vast improvement over the Bellevue. In the G. S. the first day, Baxter took tenth and Atwood fourteenth, and in the slalom, Baxter ninth and Lowell thirteenth. The following Wednesday we returned for the nordic events. Bart took ninth in jumping with Lowell eleventh. In the X-C, Bart was ninth and Baxter twelfth. We finished sixth overall, a little worse than expected.

With the close of another season, hats off to Mr. Barth, Mr. McGuire, and everyone else who helped us throughout the season. Good luck next year. Amen.

TRACK

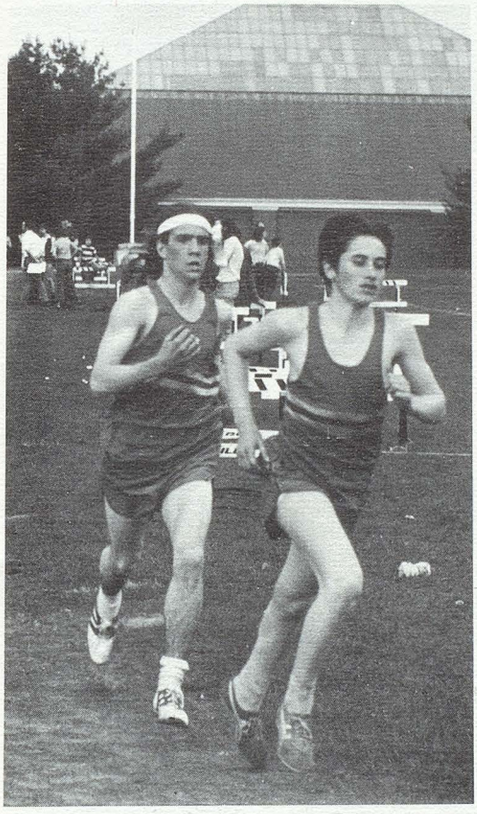

The spring of '71 proved to be one of the most successful seasons in recent track history. Only one team in the State of Maine proved to be more powerful than the Gould track men in the prep school division—North Yarmouth Academy, which is considered almost a God in track. NYA was the only team which Gould could not stop, but nobody else could either. Our only weaknesses were in the long-distance running events and the weights. Here and only here did Gould find herself slightly outclassed. This was mostly due to lack of experience and age. Charlie Ault, Dan Baxter, Larry Bright, and a surprising newcomer, Brian Blake, made headway in the long-distance events. In the weights, Dave Jervis and Mike Myers were the best, but found they lacked a little body when put up against the giants of NYA. In other events Gould was unstopable. Mark Hiebert, Gould's highest-point man, was king in the pole vault along with Andy Rochester. Hiebert also excelled in the hurdles along with Bart Bailey and Emil Winter. Curtis found height in the high jump. Jack Milligan and Dan Vogt proved to be GA's fastest quarter men. Most of the difference in winning and losing was often left to the men in the last event. The 880 relay was perhaps the most colorful and grueling event of all. Here Coach Vogt had his biggest thrill in watching Bailey, Atwood, Vogt, and the remarkable Hiebert machine eat up relay after relay. It was a great season!

Between three coaches, we managed to pile up a 4-6 season. Our great Coach Berry came down with "the childhood disease" but Coaches Bowhay and Cousins succeeded in pulling us through.

The pitching staff consisted of Richie Poor, Kathy Stone, Jane Haslun, and Missy Hatch. Without them and our great backstope, Smitty, we couldn't have made it.

The tight defensive infield was made up of Nancy "Has" Haslun at third, Jane "Has" at shortstop, Missy, Kathy, and Low Lohman at second, and Wendy Ault at first.

The fantastically superb catches in the outfield were made by our MVP Richie Poor, Cupcake Kailey in center, and Steph Bailey in right. MIP Meg McLellan also had a few in right.

The bench headed up by Motor Mouth herself, gave us the spirit and power to come through with our record. Jane Baker did a good job of holding jewelry and pinch-hitting; Celeste Zullo came through with key hits. Renetta Nobles came in and showed her skill in left and on the bases, Short-eye Thomas took over at third and even played second once (!) Sue Gregg did a good job of keeping score and a good job at first base. Sharon Feigenbaum, besides showing power with the bat, kept everyone awake on the bus with her "bottles of beer." Cathy gave us her "Vogt" of confidence at every game!

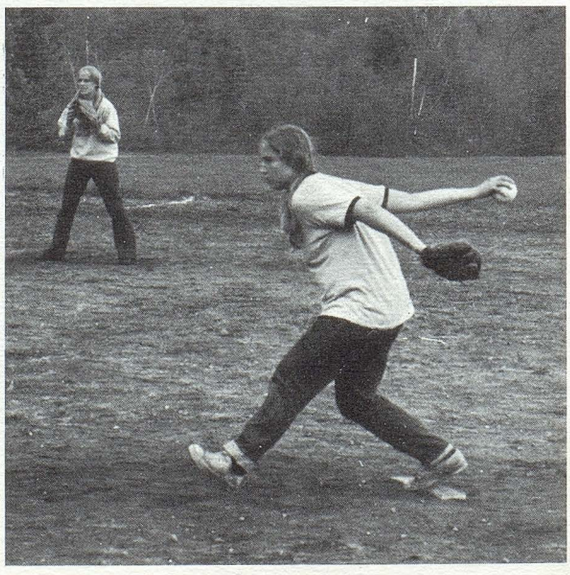

We elected Richie Poor as Most Valuable Player and Motor Mouth McLellan as Most Improved.

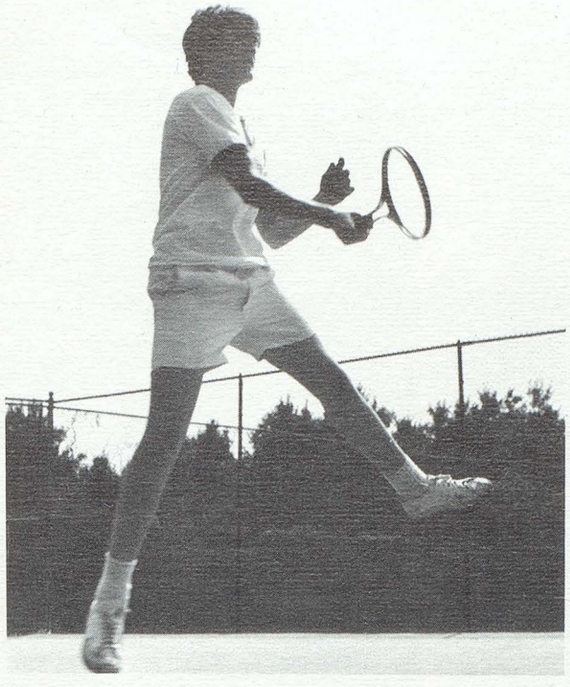

We only lose three players, so fans, until next year

(Captain)

Oh, Coach Berry, remember: Nancy at third, Jane at short!

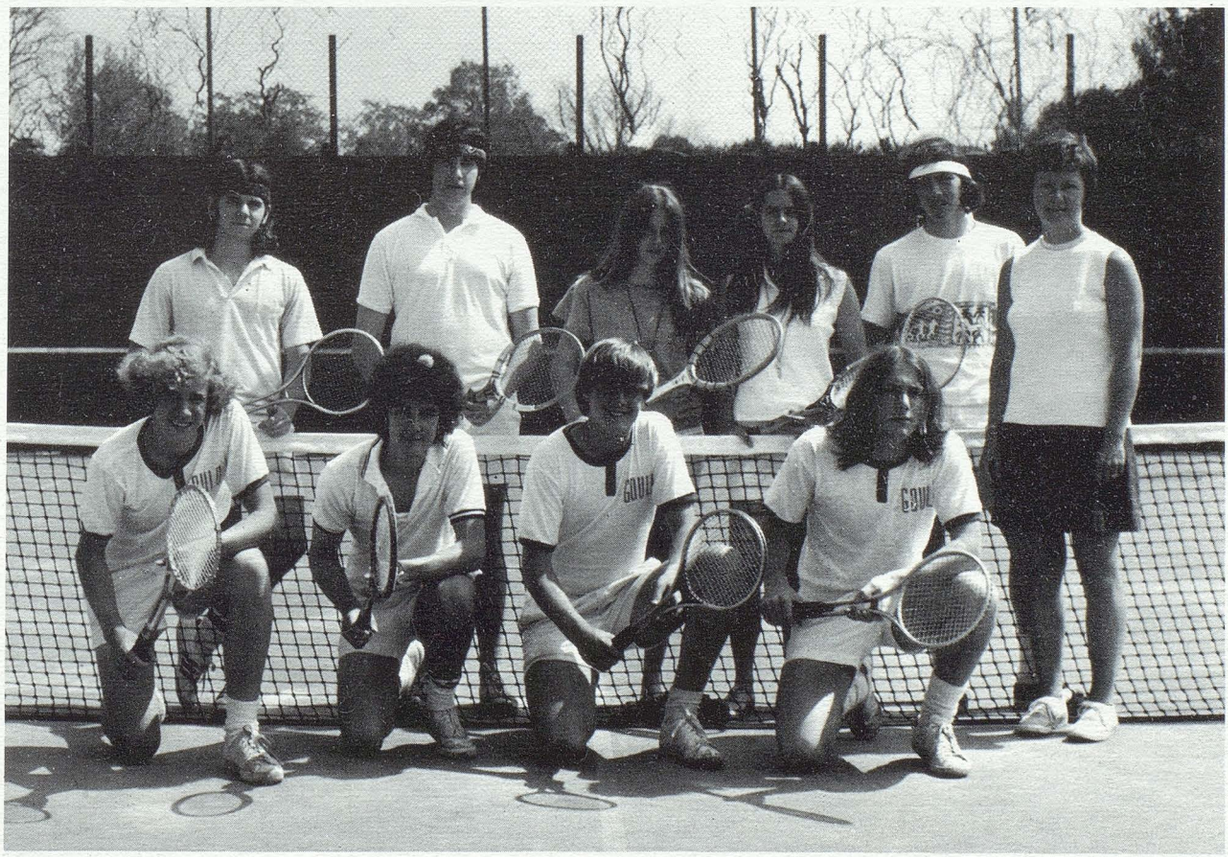

Varsity tennis had a fine, though short, season with four wins and two losses. Co-captains, Bill Hawk and Paul Stunzi, played numbers one and two respectively on the team.

The highlight of the season was the Maine Prep School Tournament in which we came in second as a team. Those indoor courts really helped!

Editor's Note

Just saying "thank you" to Loring Studios, to the many other contributing photographers, to the faithful staff members who worked long, hard, frustrating hours, and to our patient adviser, Miss Swift, isn't enough. For many of us this was the first realization of how involved and time-consuming putting a yearbook together can be. Yet we feel it was an educational and, in the long run, enjoyable ordeal. I, particularly, feel a tremendous sense of accomplishment in seeing the book actually IN PRINT. So now, I most sincerely thank you all.
